Countybank SBA Passes $100 Million

Countybank's SBA department reached a significant milestone since its launch five years ago as it passed more than $100 million in loan closings.

"Our community has endured many challenges over the last several years, and we're honored to have the opportunity to support small businesses across South Carolina," said Pickhardt. "This milestone speaks to our team's wealth of experience and expertise."

SBA Borrower Spotlight

Business owner Marilyn Nelson saw the need for quality childcare in the Anderson area and, with Countybank's help, is in the process of opening her fourth preschool location for Kids Stuff Academy.

Countybank's SBA team provided support "from day one to when I closed [on the property]," says Nelson. "They were very responsive and helped me with every step [of the process]." Funding has allowed Nelson to move forward with building, renovations, and equipment purchases, enabling her to open her newest preschool location.

So what differentiates Countybank from other financial institutions? According to Nelson, "it's more of a personal relationship rather than just a 'bank.'" Nelson shares that Countybank also helped fund her new business, Southern Paws, a doggie daycare that provides retail and grooming services.

Learn more about Kids Stuff Academy, a Christian-based preschool that serves children ages six weeks to five years old. Their mission is that every child is unique, and that success and growth come from encouragement and praise.
